The cyclone struck a swath from half a mile to a mile in extent, apparently causing most havoc at Sinnott, Lydratt and Golden Bay.

Lydratt seems to have been the scene of the greatest damage. Many houses were wrecked and several barns were blown as high as the tops of trees.

HARDING STAND ON BONUS UNCHANGED

BILL'S CHAMPIONS GLUM OVER ATTITUDE—PRESIDENT TO COMMUNICATE WITH COM.

Washington, May 11.—Soldiers bonus legislation again waits on President Harding.
The president indicated that he would send a communication on the subject to Senator P. J. McCumber of North Dakota, chairman of the finance committee, within 48 hours.
Friends who communicated with him got the response that the executive has not had any change of mind or heart on the bonus issue.
Champions of the pending legislation took this message as a pessimistic indication. They interpreted it as meaning that the senate committee had been unable to convert the president to their views of the bonus bill as modified for presentation to the senate. In fact, some senate leaders take the president's words to mean that he will veto the bill, if passed in its present form. That was his original attitude and he says he has not changed it.
Pending receipt of the president's message by Senator McCumber, the senate finance committee has suspended its bonus activities.

DAUGHERTY ACCUSES WILSON REGIME OF HIDING WAR FUNDS

HARDING'S DELIVERY OF ATTORNEY GENERAL'S REPORT TO HOUSE STIRS UP ROW

Washington, May 11.—Disclosure of the names of "influential personages" in the Wilson administration who protected contractors charged with defrauding the government of millions of dollars during the war and who "were personally interested in concealing them," was promised today by Attorney General H. M. Daugherty in a report to President Harding in explaining delay in prosecuting the war contract frauds.

President Harding transmitted Daugherty's report to congress with an expression of hope that it would prove helpful to the house in acting on the Woodruff resolution for an investigation of Mr. Daugherty's failure to proceed against those who robbed the government in war contracts.

Representative F. W. Mondell of Wyoming, republican leader, had the report read to the house. A lively row ensued during which charges were made that the president's action was designed to kill off the proposed investigation.

Representative H. O. Woodruff of Michigan, a republican, sponsor of the resolution, asserted the war contract scandal, "smells to high heaven," and declared that the republican congress could not afford to face the country at the approaching election without "cleaning it up."

Threatens Filibuster To Cause Investigation Of War-Time Frauds

(By United Press.)
Washington, May 11.—A filibuster to compel the house to take action on resolutions providing investigation of alleged laxity in prosecution of war-time frauds was threatened today by Representative Woodruff, Michigan, republican.

Declaring that "the committee is entitled to more action and fewer excuses from the administration," Woodruff served a notice on house leaders that unless they allow the resolution to come to a vote "within a few days" he will start a lone hand filibuster against all legislation.

Republican house leaders have been laying plans to balk congressional investigation and will plead that the war graft cases should be left entirely in the hands of the department of justice.

Johnson Urges Action on Measure to Curb Campaign Expenses

(By United Press.)
Washington, May 11.—Senator Hiram Johnson of California today urged the senate judiciary committee to speed action on its proposed constitutional amendment to give congress control over campaign expenditures of senators.

The ruling of Attorney General Daugherty that senatorial candidates do not have to file an expense account because of the supreme court action in the Newberry case, can be remedied only by constitutional amendment, Johnson declared.

COLD WAVE STRIKES PACIFIC COAST CITIES

Spokane, May 11.—Heavy frosts have occurred in eastern Washington and Idaho, but no serious damage to crops had been reported. The late spring prevented crop damage in many localities, it was pointed out, as the crops were not far enough advanced to be injured. Walla Walla county experienced the latest killing frost on record. Ice three-quarters of an inch thick formed at Pasco, Wash., and Colfax, Wash., with 20 degrees above zero the coldest temperature.

CROP FORECAST ABOVE TEN YEAR AVERAGE

(By United Press.)
St. Paul, May 11.—The condition of winter wheat in Minnesota on May 1 justifies a forecasted production of 1,496,000 bushels, Paul H. Kirk, Minnesota agricultural statistician, said today.

The condition of rye indicates a production of 12,433,000 bushels.
The condition of both crops with 64 per cent of spring wheat planting completed is above the ten year average. The abandoned area of winter wheat is largely in Carver, Brown, LeSueur, Nicollet, Sibley and Rice counties, and is due to ice covering this spring which smothered the crop. The total area abandoned is estimated at 12 per cent.
The condition of winter wheat is 82 per cent of normal compared with 90 per cent last May.

Acres of tame hay shows very little change from last year.
The acreage this year, as compared with last is 101 per cent. The growth of wild hay is somewhat backward this year, and the condition estimated at 86 per cent of normal.

It is estimated that 9.8 per cent of all hay from last year is still on the farms. The condition of all livestock is generally good although a little thin.

MORE MONEY TO PROSECUTE WAR GRAFTERS NEEDED

MEASURE TO GIVE DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE HALF MILLION FOR THIS PURPOSE URGED

(By United Press.)
Washington, May 11.—Additional appropriations of $500,000 to enable Attorney General Daugherty to prosecute war profiteers will be rushed through congress, Representative Madden, of Illinois, chairman of the house appropriations committee, said today.

Daugherty appeared before the house committee to ask this fund, and was subject to considerable criticism by democrats for not asking for such an appropriation more than six months ago, when so requested by former members of the house committee that investigated war-time expenditures of the government.

Madden said the house would pass the additional appropriations "here next week."

SHOULD INVESTIGATE MOVIES TO STOP POLITICAL ACTIVITY

(By United Press.)
Washington, May 11.—The movies should be investigated and a stop put to their "improper political activities," Wilbur F. Crafts, superintendent of the International Reform Bureau declared today before the senate judiciary board. He urged passage of the Myers resolution for a probe of the motion picture industry.
Crafts charged that the movies are rapidly setting up a powerful political machine and already have elected scores of their own candidates in state and local elections.

"If it is wrong for cotton kings, alcohol kings and railroad kings to dominate politics, for their own selfish industry," said Crafts, "it is equally wrong for the vampire queen of the movies to plot for the throne that belongs to 'king everybody and his wife'."

SENATE TAKES UP TARIFF GRIND

(By United Press.)
Washington, May 11.—Senate leaders today took up the tariff grind again, weary and failing to see the end of the long road.

Congress is in a legislative jam. This jam threatens to prevent enactment of tariff legislation on which congress has now been at work for more than a year.

Necessity for passing the army and navy appropriations bills by July 1 is causing the tariff leaders the greatest worry.

Democrats are fighting the tariff inch by inch. Even the resort to night sessions, begun last night, apparently has had little effect.

REWARDS OF $60000 OFFERED FOR ARREST SLAYERS OF OFFICERS

HIGH UNION OFFICIALS UNDER ARREST WILL BE PROSECUTED FOR INCITING RIOT

AUTHORITIES CONVINCED MEN WHO DID ACTUAL KILLING WERE MERELY HIRELINGS

(By United Press.)
Chicago, May 11.—Three hundred men in Chicago's city jail were in custody today in connection with the labor killing of two policemen.

Three of the suspects had been partially identified as the slayers of the two officers. High union officials under arrest will be prosecuted on the charges of inciting riot, and with having fostered a reign of terror that resulted in loss of lives under statutes similar to those on which instigators of the Hay Market riots were convicted of anarchy.

Authorities are convinced that the men who did the actual killing were merely hirelings of higher officers who are trying to defeat the Landis award. Rewards totaling $60,000 for the arrest of the slayers spurred all Chicago to gigantic manhunt.

The three men partially identified as the slayers were: Isadore Braverman, 28, named by two park policemen as one of the men responsible for the attack which killed Lieut. Terrence Lyons. Braverman's family advanced an alibi. Max Glass, 33, member of the Glaziers Union and suspected of having driven an auto from which Policeman Thomas Clark was killed. John Lafferty, notorious police character, was partly identified as the third man in the car by an eye witness.

The policemen were killed when they tried to intercept an auto. Efforts were made today to obtain release of the Big Three in Chicago building trades who were taken into custody following the murders—"Big Tim", the power behind; Fred Mader, president of the Building Trades Council, and Cornelius Shea, union official.

UNION MEETING OF PARENT-TEACHERS

Was Held at the Washington School Building Tuesday Night—Large Attendance

INTERESTING PROGRAM GIVEN

Reports of Various Assns. Were Received—Carl Zapffe, of Water & Light Board Gave Address

The union meetings of the Parent-Teachers Associations held on Tuesday evening in the Washington building was well attended by representatives from the various school districts. An elaborate program had been prepared and those present enjoyed the music and speeches provided. Although the order of the program as given to the Dispatch was not followed, all those who were announced as contributors to the program were present and took part. The musical program was of a high order, and those taking part were given enthusiastic appreciation. Those taking part in the musical part of the program were, high school orchestra, Miss Grace Oberg and Miss Hilla Weimar, Miss Mildred Breidenberg and Miss Alice Johnson, Bruno Olson, Miss Lonita Hayes, William Rodenkirchen, Dr. A. K. Cohen, D. H. Fullerton.

Prof. W. C. Cobb spoke to the assembly on "Child Welfare," and gave special attention to this important subject as it is related to the educational interests of the children which promote the welfare of children. The speaker called attention to the fact that the appointment of money for educational purposes to the schools of the State is based on an attendance of 40 days in the year, and as there are 180 school days in the year the number of days required—forty—is altogether too few. The required attendance ought to come nearer the one hundred days mark.

Arising out of a question there was a discussion of the Central Council of the Parent-Teachers Associations which is to have its first meeting in September.

The reports of the different associations were of interest as given by Mrs. Clarence Smiley of the Riverside school, Miss Dillian of the Harrison, Mrs. Herbert of the Lowell, Mrs. O. E. Knutson of the Whittier and Miss Armstrong of the Washington-Lincoln.

The report from the Whittier school was very comprehensive and offered many good suggestions for improvements in the city's educational program which will have the thoughtful consideration of the school board.

Carl Zapffe gave an able address which follows:

"Wherein We Fail"

I have often wondered what some people, as they walk down the streets, think about Brainerd problems. I have often wondered how many or how few give them any thought at all. I know that too many don't want to hear about the local problems. I know that many do not give local problems sufficient serious thought. There are always many problems.

Signs That Brainerd is Growing
Brainerd is growing. The population is not increasing, of course, we are not losing, but the gain we are making is of no consequence numerically. But Brainerd is growing in the sense that the people want more and more comforts and conveniences provided publicly, and in that sense—in the sense of public service given and benefits obtained, Brainerd is growing. The people can have all such conveniences they want, but the people must be prepared to pay for them. You pay for them in several ways—by paying higher taxes, higher rates for public utilities, and making greater contributions and donations. To keep up with the demands, some people must pay more freely than they have paid, some more judiciously and some must economize in their personal extravagances. But from now on you must prepare yourself to go stronger in these matters, for Brainerd is growing.

Two Ways of Providing Revenue
The most common method of raising revenue is by taxation. For a person to go out among his fellow citizens and urge higher taxes is like taking your life in your hands. But it must be done. In every city comes a time when you must dig deeper into your pockets to enable keeping up with the times, and unless those upon whom authority and responsibility in local affairs rest bring the sad news to you and tell you that the city is growing and its expenses increasing, you will never know about the circumstances, and the result is that your city goes backward. Your population might increase, but your town goes backward in progress and developments.

Another common method of obtaining money is to subscribe to a fund. That entails a great deal of charity work and is too unequal in its distribution of effort and labor and too uncertain of results. Often it is necessary to advocate this method, although it is very wasteful of time and energy. Much of this waste could be spared if the public would interest itself more in its local affairs. To understand local problems means that increased taxes will be frowned upon less, and if the finances of the city are ample, definite and logical channels for administration will be provided to carry out properly all desired projects. I shall speak no more of this, but these few words pertaining to revenue are mentioned because revenue has some bearing in what follows.

What We Have Done for Grown Ups
About 10 years ago, during the time while I was president of the Commercial club, the county agricultural agent project was launched by the state. I took an interest in the movement, got behind it, and Crow Wing county fell in line promptly and the state sent us a man and we have had an agricultural agent ever since. We have done a big variety of things intended to help the farmer's cows, horses, pigs, poultry and grains, and improve his machinery, but we neglected ourselves. We are peculiar in many respects. For example, some people in Brainerd are objecting to the price they pay for water. Good water and plenty water is more of a necessity to us than anything else on earth; yet we will spend freely for movies or other pleasures and ignore ourselves hygienically and physically. Now we have a county and a school nurse and social workers and we are doing a little better by ourselves—the human engine. But we have not gone far enough, and we have made a mistake. We spend too much time and money repairing our human engines when we owe it to ourselves to develop better ones in the first place. We are too wasteful of time, energy and money when we depend on making over and repairing grown-ups instead of giving better training to our youths.

Grown-ups are strange contrivances. Recently our county auditor asked me what I thought about all these efforts at welfare work in our county. I said, "Whoop it up; we are doing too much for the cows and seed and not enough for the man himself". He replied that the county commissioners were getting dubious about spending more and were contemplating obtaining a straw ballot at the primary election this spring on that question because many farmers were objecting to the county agent, the county nurse, and all that sort of thing. Mind you, there were people who did not want help of such kind. The point is that they had never been helped in childhood, did not understand it, and did not want it now.

What Have You Done for the Children

You people seated before me here are interested in children. Up to now you have been sending them to school, have been letting the teacher do the best she can with them, have been turning them loose on the streets, and then wondered why they are bad or troublesome or not better, or why it is that Brainerd is such a poor place for training children. What can you expect, you give them no place to go; you provide no planned something for them to do. They grow up and develop aimlessly, in weed-like fashion, and constitute a problem for all time. They grow up and spend time and effort because they

BRAINERD HIGH LOSES GAME TO ST. CLOUD

By W. G.

The High School baseball team lost to the St. Cloud Tech. yesterday afternoon with a score of 9 to 7. The team has no excuses, but promises better work during the ensuing games.

The next game will be run off on the Koering grounds, Brainerd's only available baseball plot, at 3:45 Friday. Considering the close margin that Little Falls overcame the locals on the down river grounds, the conflict ought to be an exciting one.

The line-up will be practically the same as in the preceding games, with Zack and Carlson batteries. The men will take their positions more confidently in this game as the St. Cloud batteled familiarized them with the field.

Criticism of Game

Spectators who attended the baseball game in which the St. Cloud Tech. team defeated the Brainerd high school team have offered gratuitous suggestions to the Dispatch with the request that these be passed on to the public.

The first of these is one of congratulation on the splendid attempt which the local pitcher, Zakariassen, made to hold down the score of the rivals. This however was followed by the criticism that this pitcher had not yet realized that he has a team behind him. He is too anxious to play the game himself. There is no question that he was given but weak support in the game of Wednesday afternoon, but the fielders were not altogether to blame, for his attempt to hold each batsman had left the team in the field cold and when support was needed they were not warmed up so that they could give it. Those who offered their criticisms say that they think that the pitcher on the Brainerd team has a lot of stuff and they feel sure that he will make good.

These kindly critics who are interested in the school and the game, were troubled by the way in which the local crowd encroached upon the line between third base and the home plate near the end of the game. They assert that the conduct was unsportsmanlike and reflected no credit on the Brainerd boosters. This was particularly so for this reason when the local team was at bat and it was advisable to clear the line, the crowd got back but when St. Cloud was at bat the spectators crowded on to the bases. Men who have played the game state that the umpire might have called several of the Brainerd batsmen out because of the flagrant violation of the rules on the part of other Brainerd players. The rule in question relates to the coaches on the lines, and, unless these persons are misinformed, players are not allowed to run the line between third and home as several of the Brainerd players did on Wednesday afternoon. And if these same players had done as well in backing up the pitcher and handling the bat as they did in making their noisy display, the result of the game would have been different.

And in addition to all this they say that it is unfortunate that parents are not more interested in the athletics of the high school. Much is being said these days about interests for young people which may safeguard them from the temptations that are so prevalent. And it seems that parents and citizens should make it a point to be at games played by the students of the local high school that by their attendance they may encourage athletics and bring inspiration and spirit to the athletes.

Larson-Bullock

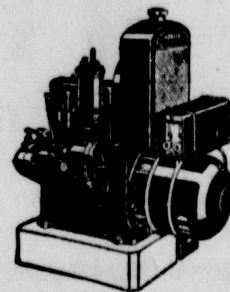

Lillian Larson became the bride of Walter R. Bullock at the manse of the First Presbyterian church on Wednesday afternoon at five o'clock when Rev. S. M. Kelly read the marriage service. Mr. Bullock is employed at Breezy Point of which W. H. Fawcett is proprietor. The newlyweds will make their home at this splendid resort.

First Baptist Missionary Circle

The Missionary Circle of the First Baptist church will meet with Mrs. E. S. Whitlock, 1620 Oak street east, Friday afternoon. Visitors are welcome.

Dorcas Society

The Dorcas Young Peoples society of the Swedish Bethany church will be entertained Friday evening, May 12th by Mrs. Swan Larson, 624 Elm street Northeast. The society extends a hearty welcome to everyone to come. Program will be announced later.

COMMUNITY CENTER ESTABLISHED IN N. E.

TENNIS COURT ABOUT COMPLETE

Twenty Members Have Joined Tennis Club—Series of Baseball Games are Arranged

People's Congregational church has begun to take on the appearance of a real community center. A tennis court is practically complete and something over twenty members have joined the tennis club. The pastor has made arrangements for several baseball games and will accompany a team of young boys to Wadena on Saturday where the first game of the series will be played.

The people of the city and surrounding territory have responded to the appeal which the church made for assistance in completing a full basement affording facilities for the growth and efficiency of the social program.

The management of the Lyceum theatre has kindly agreed to give a benefit play on May 24 and 25. The picture, "Inside the Cup," is said to be one of the finest plays before the American public and should insure a packed house on both dates.

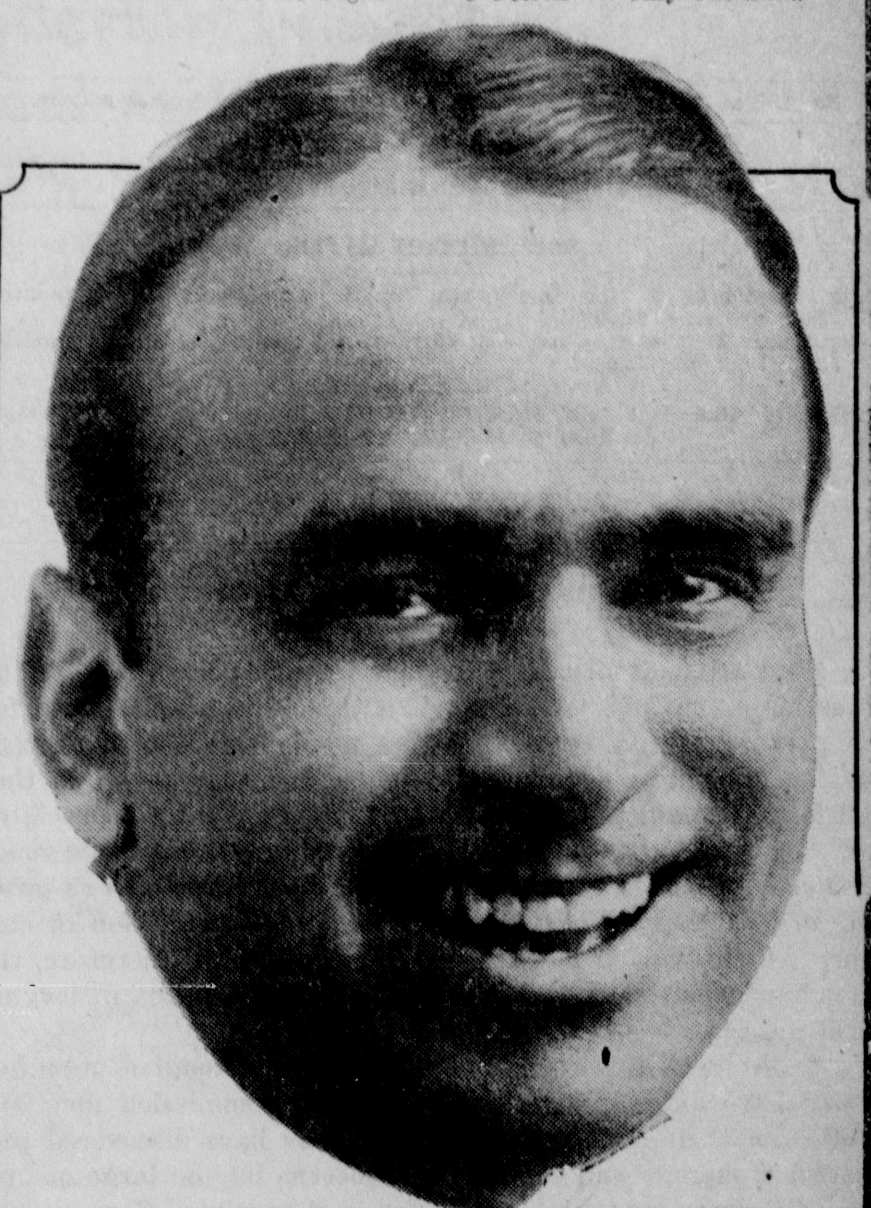

Rev. Edwin S. Shaw, financial secretary of the Congregational conference of Minnesota, will be in the city May 25 and 26, to assist the committee to complete the canvass for funds for the new modern basement.

The program for the People's Congregational church is ambitious and citizens are rallying to the work of assisting the people of Northeast Brainerd in their attempt to supply themselves with a community center.

CANADIAN INDUSTRIES MENACED

WE YESTERDAY discussed the new Canadian tariff law for the valuation of imports, which provides that in valuing imports for the purpose of levying tariff duties no depreciation of foreign currency should be recognized in excess of 50 per cent. In that article we explained how Germany, with her greatly depreciated currency evades the Canadian law by sending German-made goods to Holland, there to be repacked, and shipped to Canada as products of The Netherlands, where there is no depreciation in currency. Being valued in terms of Dutch currency, therefore, the Canadian valuation law does not apply on the goods in levying tariff duties.

Grievous as this complaint is, however, Canadian manufacturers have an even greater one against commission men and jobbers of their own home country. They have discovered that British brokerage and commission concerns buying large quantities of German-made goods paid for in depreciated German currency, taking them to England and there repacking and re-labeling them and sending them into Canada. In this way the British concerns not only evade the Canadian valuation law but, in addition, obtain the benefit of the preferential tariff rates which Canada gives to British imports, a preference of about 30 per cent.

Canadian industries are becoming very much alarmed over the situation. Unless they can find a way to keep out the increasing flood of cheaply made goods, they fear they will be driven out of business. Sentiment among the manufacturing interests in Canada is rapidly coming around to the same viewpoint as that of American manufacturers who advocate the American valuation plan—the only really fair and practical plan of adjusting tariff duties on imports.

REORGANIZING DEPARTMENTS AND BUREAUS

THERE HAVE been persistent reports of friction in President Harding's Cabinet caused by carrying out his reorganization plans, but it is stated by those intimately involved in the formation of these plans that reports and rumors concerning alleged bitterness among members of the Cabinet in connection with what had been described as "encroachment on each others' departments," are wholly without foundation.

There may be differences of opinion, however, and in an effort to smooth out any differences which might exist concerning reorganization of the various departments and bureaus, President Harding is this week holding individual conferences with members of his official family.

It is said that this plan was decided upon at a Cabinet meeting when the report of Walter F. Brown of Ohio, chairman of the joint Congressional commission on reorganization of government departments and bureaus, was considered. The President is said to feel that the views of his Cabinet, expressed individually, would enable him to form a speedy decision, and wind up the entire matter so far as his part in the plan is concerned.

REFORMING CIVIL SERVICE REFORM

DESPITE the evident belief of many people to the contrary, the civil service is not intended to be an asylum for all who have succeeded in becoming attached to it, regardless of their competency. This side of the question should call for no argument. It should also be equally well understood that civil service regulations, with respect to holding on to jobs, ought never to apply to those officers who must use discretion in relation to matters of administration affecting the policies of the Administration itself. If officers of this class are to be inviolate in their positions, government by political parties might just as well cease, and it probably would cease as civil service becomes more and more a bureaucratic institution bulwarked by a sort of divine right.

The present administration is acting with great patience under vexatious circumstances, and it will win the applause of sober-minded men if it does a thorough job and reforms civil service reform to a permanent reformation.

REJECTED SERVICE MEN RECOGNIZED

THE WAR VETERANS' BUREAU recently announced a ruling by which thousands of young men who were passed by draft boards, but later were rejected at training camps, are eligible for admission to national homes for disabled soldiers. This is an important ruling, and many of those interested will no doubt hasten to take advantage of it.

It should be understood, however, that these men are not eligible for compensation under the law. Many claims for compensation from them have been disallowed because there was no medical evidence showing that there was an aggravation of their disability between the short period of induction by draft boards and their rejection at training camps.

INDICATIONS are that there will be a warm contest for the speakership of the Minnesota House of Representatives, when the next Legislature meets. W. A. Nolan, of Minneapolis, who has held it for two terms, wants a third term. Oscar Swenson of Nicollet county and Tom Girling of Hennepin county both admit they would like the job. There may be others, and most anything is liable to happen in a new Legislature.

THE SECRETARY to the Senate committee on War Department appropriations is authority for the statement that the War Department has effected an annual saving of $40,000,000 since Secretary Weeks assumed office. The saving, it is explained, was made principally through reduction of personnel, the curtailment of expenditures and the institution of more efficient methods of accounting.

LEGEND LIVES ON

Another Explanation of Lost Continent of Atlantis.

Students of History Are Coming to the Belief That There May Be Basis of Truth.

A story of the perhaps authentic continent of Atlantis has recently appeared from the pen of Scott Elliot—that submerged land in which interest is heightened by the fact that so little is really known about it.

The present writer tells us that several colossal geologic catastrophes took place prior to the Christian era—some between 200,000 and 800,000 and the most recent, 9,564 years before the drama of Calvary. At these several periods the form of the seas and continents was modified, water taking the place of land and vice versa.

The traditional deluge conforms to the last of these hypotheses, which is also the basis of the legend of the lost city of Ys. It explains, moreover, the confused memories of certain ancient peoples relative to a large island lying beyond the Pillars of Hercules, our modern Gibraltar.

Plato, and others before him, spoke of the invasion of Greece by a people from a distant land. There were gold-covered temples in this land and wonderful orchards and forests, and its inhabitants dwelt in peace and prosperity under the scepter of Neptune's descendants. But, it was related, this people fell into evil ways, so that Jupiter rolled the ocean over them, and all perished.

These happenings, ignored by us, barely punctuate the mists that enshroud the hundreds of centuries that have come and gone; yet it is none the less true that human kind vaguely cherishes the belief in these gigantic earth movements concerning which so many suppositions have been advanced. Diodorus of Sicily mentions the hypothesis of a violent disturbance in the Mediterranean, which, traveling through the straits of Gibraltar, overwhelmed Atlantis beyond.

Is this all dream stuff? Is there no basis of truth in these strange legends? Who would attempt a denial in the face of Mr. Elliot's evidence? Whence came the wonderful tales of flourishing countries and splendid cities forever covered by the waves?

It is easy to appreciate the attraction offered the imaginations of poets, novelists and philosophers by the mystery of Atlantis. Plato made it the subject of a magnificent narrative, which, in turn, has supplied the plot of a beautiful present day poem by the Spaniard, Don Jacinto Verdaguor. Bacon, too, wrote of "The New Atlantis," city of scientists, where everything that could produce human genius found its focus and was preserved and brought to perfection.

It is probable that we shall never know anything definite concerning this dream country in which superstitious sailors still believe, bending over the taffrail on dark nights to catch the distant ringing of water muffled bells in the drowned steeples far below. Ah, no; like enough we shall learn nothing more. No doubt that is why the story is so dear to us.

Have Crooked Spines.

Miss Margaret Major, physical director of women at the University of Pennsylvania, declares that half of the 200 freshmen coeds at the institution have developed some sort of curvature of the spine from sitting and standing carelessly.

"They are accustomed to carry their books in their right hand," she says. "They rest on the right foot when they stop. That raises the right hip and raises the right shoulder and soon, without daily counteracting exercises, they have developed curvature."

Sitting with the right leg crossed over the left likewise tends to the same effect, according to Miss Major.

Three Valuable Friends.

Three men are my friends. He that loves me, he that hates me, he that is indifferent to me. Who loves me, teaches me tenderness. Who hates me, teaches me caution. Who is indifferent to me, teaches me self-reliance.—Pamlin.

Interpreted.

Doctor—"I would advise you, dear madam, to take frequent baths, plenty of fresh air and dress in cool gowns." Husband (an hour later)—"What did the doctor say?" Wife—"He said I ought to go to a watering place and afterward to the mountains and to get some new light gowns at once."—Fliegende Blätter.

Hope Miss Nixdore Sees This.

CHAMBER HOLDS INTERESTING MEETING

Hear Report of Committees on Change of Highway No. 2—Legislation Required for Change

VICE PRESIDENT PRESIDED

Resolution Passed Asking Location of Home of Woodmen of World Here—Pleading Support

The unusually warm evening reduced the crowd at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce but did not interfere with the enthusiasm of those who were present.

After the formalities which attend the opening of a meeting, Vern L. Hitch reported on his duties as a committee of one to confer with Lumburg Brothers relative to their troubles out at their fruit farm. Mr. Hitch reported having promised the co-operation of the Chamber of Commerce in their efforts to have matters of damages satisfactory arranged.

Henry I. Cohen spoke for the committee having in charge the attempt to change the direction of highway No. 2 as it is to enter the city. Walter M. Murphy, county engineer, stated that the direction of highway No. 18 was fixed by an act of the legislature and cannot be changed without further action by the legislature. Therefore the way in which No. 2 enters Brainerd is determined by the location of No. 18 and can be changed only by legislation.

The following applications for membership were read and the applicants elected: J. H. Warner, M. V. Baker, Otto Pearson and Sol Marquis. Walter M. Murphy called attention to the fact that officers have been appointed by Mr. Babcock to see to it that the motor vehicle tax is paid. Mr. Murphy asked for co-operation in collecting this tax, he having been made local officer to see to its collection.

Henry I. Cohen re-introduced the question of the co-operation which is to be given the Woodmen of the World in their efforts to secure their home for this city or vicinity. Mr. Cohen said that he had been informed that the home would call for an early expenditure of from $500,000 to $700,000 and that the Woodmen of the World have the funds for the undertaking.

The advisability of having a home which includes a hospital for tubercular patients in or near Brainerd was discussed at length. Some present suggested that it would not help Brainerd while others said that without doubt it would be a great benefit to Brainerd. Those who favored the locating of the home in or near Brainerd cited Walker, Colorado Springs and other places to show that such hospitals have not hindered the development of these places but have aided such development.

V. L. Hitch, Dr. R. A. Beise, Carl Wright and A. L. Hoffman contributed to the discussion.

The secretary was requested to write Colorado Springs and Walker to secure data on the effect of locating such institutions in their vicinity. Mr. Bouma reported on having lived at Colorado Springs for one year and proceeded to tell what he learned of the effect of such institutions upon the growth and development of the communities.

A. L. Hoffman moved "that we use every power in our means to locate this institution here." The motion was seconded by T. B. Brusegaard, supported by Henry I. Cohen and duly carried.

A. L. Hoffman asked that the secretary communicate with A. J. Hayes for the purpose of finding out why the water tower is not illuminated. W. D. McKay stated that this matter is not in the care of the Water and Light Board but must be decided by the city council and that the lights had been cut off to save money. It was the feeling of the meeting that after the business men had contributed to supply the lamps they ought to be lighted each evening.

Another matter called to the attention of the meeting brought out considerable discussion. This discussion had to do with the charges for power which are made by the Water and Light Board. R. S. Wilcox affirmed that the rates on small quantities are high in Brainerd discouraging small industries which hold the possibility of Brainerd's growth. Mr. Wilcox showed that Minneapolis had been built up from small industries which had been encouraged by the city. The secretary of the Water and Light Board said the rate in Brainerd must be determined by the amount the city has to pay for current. Figures were given to show cost of current and overhead which determines the cost to the consumer. Mr. Hoffman asked if this overhead would be increased or reduced by the increase in the number of consumers and Mr. McKay replied that an increase in the consumers would reduce the overhead and as the cost of current is reduced when a certain amount has been used, the costs are reduced by enlarged consumption.

The manufacturing committee was instructed to confer with the Water and Light Board to see if some way can be worked out by which the small manufacturer may be given a rate which will encourage such to locate in Brainerd. The committee is to report back to the Chamber of Commerce within a month.

The secretary gave information to show that many questions have been referred to the manufacturing committee for decision and that in his judgments the decisions of the committee have been dedicated by wisdom.

P. T. Brown spoke on the desirability of supporting local industries and cited in particular the need of buying home made cigars.

V. L. Hitch said that before manufacturers are induced to come into the city something should be done about housing workers who are already here. He asked support for the Building and Loan Association.

The membership committee has been working hard to have ladies become members of the Chamber and attend the meetings and was encouraged by the presence of Mrs. J. N. Francis of Flak, the first lady to attend and sit through a session of the Chamber of Commerce as a member of the body.

$15 Reward Paid

WALTER F. WIELAND

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

For many years the Water and Light Board has required applicants for water service to pay $10 or $15 to defray the cost of making connection at the main in the street and laying the service line to the shut-off in the boulevard in front of the house of the applicant. As water mains are laid to one side of the street, the residents on the nearer side make the smaller deposit.

These charges are based on what it costs in streets that are not paved with concrete. Because so many streets are now being paved, it becomes necessary to make bigger charges when a connection is made that requires tearing up and relaying cement pavement. A deposit will be requested that will cover the cost of such work.

Therefore it is suggested that owners of vacant property or those who contemplate renewals of service lines on streets about to be paved, make their connections before the street is paved and thereby enable a very substantial saving for themselves.

Philippine Undermuslins Compose the Most Charming Collection in This May Showing of Lingerie

These exquisite under-things have all the soft daintiness, and all the delightful adornments that tasteful women love.

Those little brown Filipino women learn to make laces and embroideries almost in their infancy, and the lifelong training of the deft fingers develops such art and expertness as is almost unbelievable—first in the marvelous creations they produce and then in the speed with which they can produce it and thus make it possible to bring such amazingly beautiful garments as these at such moderate prices.

The styles and shapes of the garments were designed, of course, by foremost American fashion creators, and they are adorable.

In an interesting way about the Building and Loan association which received the endorsement of the club.

Dr. G. I. Badeau and A. C. Mraz sang songs which added to the enjoyment of the men at the tables.

The members discussed the "summer home" for the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. This will be located at Sixth and Laurel streets and will be of rustic design, making it an attractive building.

Most of the members announced that they expect to attend the state convention of Lions' club to be held in St. Paul May 19.

The matter of changing the time of meeting from the evening to the noon hour was discussed but the members favored the evening hour.

UNION MEETING OF PARENT-TEACHERS

have never learned how to conserve their energy. And energy is life.

Get Behind a Plan to Develop
Youth Physically

My dear people, here you have a real problem. Here is where you have failed. You have a problem that requires more than just thinking about it. You have thought about it now for a decade on the average, and that average has been and will be—until you decide to take an active part and not a passive part, until you come across either with greater taxes or contributions or both, until you get behind a definite plan and a project to develop youth physically. I do not believe that your separate Parent-Teachers organizations have functioned just right. Since you began, the two or three years passed have enabled you to get acquainted with one another; but from now on, instead of listening to speakers at your meetings who deal in generalities and perhaps speak to oblige and help fill a program, who do you not undertake a piece of work, engage in all your members, plan a campaign and at your meetings discuss among yourself how you are progressing, and don't cease in your task until you put over the plan. You can succeed. Think it; talk it; keep at it; and eventually you are bound to be victorious. That is how success is gained in anything.

What the Real Boy Wants

It is not my intention to present a plan, but permit me to advance a few suggestions. For instance, the boy of 12 to 16 wants some real stuff, real play, vigorous exercise, outdoor training and outdoor life, etc. If he does not want it, he is sick and a namby-pamby and either needs special care or is most in need of training. I want to see real boys. Does the boy get real play now; does he get clean, manly vigorous exercise now, the kind that does not injure him. Not a bit; he gets none of it because there are none here to teach it, and there is no place where the boy can go and get it. You have not provided for him.

Our Greatest Need for Boys and Girls

Our greatest need for boys and girls is a real, up-to-date, genuine gymnasium. Directed organized play at the schools, instruction in gymnastics and athletics, and physical contests is what the kids need. Our Y. M. C. A. counts as nothing. The doors should be closed. It is defunct. It does no good as a gym to continue it. Funds are lacking; space is lacking; equipment is lacking; leadership is impossible and there are none to lead; and because there is nothing to offer anybody none will join. We regret closing the doors and quitting. We need such a place so urgently. We ought to have some grand place to go to and give and receive gymnastic training. I got it as a kid, and I do not want any other kid to be without it. Notice how the churches are fixing up their basements and making gymnasiums; they tell us it is done to hold the boys. You can't do it that way. Boys are not deceived that way. Of course it does no harm, and I do not want to discourage it; but the gymnasiums in churches at best are only a makeshift and not even a substitute. They will be valuable asset in conjunction with a genuine athletic gymnasium intended for all ages and sexes.

Organized Play for Small Kids

Small kids do not know how to play. We ought to have a play director and develop organized play. I had it. Why not have it here. While still active in Commercial club work, I once got a man to come and speak here, a man from a national organization on play and playgrounds. He spoke on organized play. Nothing ever came of it. Probably not a dozen remember it.

Bigger Schools are Needed

You need bigger and better school facilities right now. Why wait longer. Why don't you all get up and go after it. Maybe bigger and newer building will help solve some of these things I have mentioned.

We Need Boy Scout Work

12 and 16 year old boys want and needs the Boy Scout Work. With the greater growth of cities and urban life, this is a necessity. This is positively not a military movement. True, the boy is taught discipline and no boy ever gets too much of that. No boy is so well trained at home that a little more from an outside source will hurt him. Soon you will be called upon to help give support to this movement in Brainerd, and if you are asked to give of your time (and other things) do it cheerfully and willingly and your boys will get a training that you can not duplicate anywhere. We are not yet ready to launch the movement. The Rotary club is making a careful study of the plans, but nothing will be done until the system is understood thoroughly. But just let us get at your boys; they will get you, I promise you. Boy Scout organizations will cost you little only, but whatever it is, anything done for the budding youth is well worth doing. A good gymnasium would be a bonanza in this work.

What You Could Do and What You Have Neglected To Do

Given organized play for the kids, Boy Scout for the Middle, and the gymnasium or a Recreational club for the growing youth and then you are doing something for your children—no more than people do elsewhere and as much as the children have a right to expect of you. What are the objections to this? Wouldn't you do as much for your children as you would for another man's cows and pigs? Haven't you done enough for the other fellow and shouldn't you do something for your own children? Don't expect the policeman to keep your boy out of the places of ill-repute, but it is up to you to provide a place—a gym or a club, where the boy can go and play his pool or checkers or bowl, etc., under supervision, and then not develop the desire to go to the public halls. Haven't you depended too much upon the mayor and his police to guard and guide your boys? Haven't you neglected something?

A Program for the Parent-
Teachers Associations

So then, let each Parent-Teachers Association become a committee, all join in a common effort, work together, and develop a plan or a campaign. It is too big a job for any one person. The desire and the effort must be general. You are the logical leaders in this. Line up the different organizations in town, such as the city council, the school board, Chamber of Commerce, Trades Assembly, and so on. Develop strong sentiment for some kind of a recreational center, call it what you will, and when the interest becomes red-hot and the time comes to pay for it, you won't feel like kicking if taxes are mounting. It is up to you folks. What are you going to do about it?

AMUSEMENTS

STAR'S OWN MOTHER IS MOTHER
IN FILM

For one of the scenes in "Flower of the North," showing at the New Park Monday and Tuesday, it was necessary to show the heroine's mother, and as the girl and parent bore close resemblance to each other it was necessary to secure a woman who resembled Pauline Starke.

Many actresses were examined for the role, but none seemed suitable. For a time it was believed that this scene would have to be eliminated or that Pauline Starke, who plays the heroine, would have to double, and double exposure be resorted to. Then Mrs. Starke, mother of the little actress, paid a visit to her daughter at the studio, and was on the set watching her daughter's performance when David Smith, the director, caught the striking resemblance between mother and daughter. Mrs. Starke was induced to become a motion picture actress, and played in the same film with her daughter.

JANE NOVAK FORCED TO STARDOM

Have you ever heard of a motion picture star who refused to have stardom thrust upon her before she deemed herself ready for the order of merit?

Such is the story of Jane Novak, who has just completed her first real starring picture at the head of her own company.

When Chester Bennett, the man who has been directorially responsible for some of the best Vitaphone productions, formed a producing organization he had Jane Novak in mind.

At that time, a few weeks ago, Miss Novak was following her usual policy of enacting the leading feminine role in the production of "The Rosary," with an all-star cast headed by such players as Lewis Stone, Wallace Berry and Robert Gordon.

Mr. Bennett had the right idea. By securing five of the best outdoor stories by well-known authors, and allowing Miss Novak a voice in the selection of them, as well as surrounding her with the most capable cast of players, including Noah Beery and J. Frank Glendon, he persuaded her to become a star in "Belle of Alaska."

Miss Novak in this heart and action drama of the roaring Yukon will show at the New Park Sunday only.

"MUSKETEERS" A GORGEOUS AND IMPRESSIVE FILM

If anybody is in doubt about the costume play as an excellent form of motion picture entertainment, he should see Douglas Fairbanks' picture version of Alexander Dumas' classic story, "The Three Musketeers," which started a two nights run at the Lyceum theatre yesterday.

Featuring the costumes of the early Seventeenth Century, this film stands as one of the most impressive and gorgeous photoplays of motion picture history. It is thrilling, romantic, crammed full of red-blooded adventure and reveals Douglas Fairbanks in a type of work which is in some respects typical of past performances, but on the whole differs from any other interpretation he has even given us.

In the role of D'Artagnan, the dashing swordsman who intercepted one of the foulest intrigues ever attempted by Cardinal Richelieu, of France, Doug is called upon for a greater display of histrionic ability than in anything he has done since leaving the speaking stage for pictures.

Those who have read "The Three Musketeers" will have no regrets to express when they view it on the silver sheet, for Fairbanks has reproduced the story with a faithfulness and fidelity that is particularly gratifying.

The presentation of "The Three Musketeers" is splendid, preceded as it is by a colorful prologue and accompanied with music especially prepared for the occasion.

GLADYS WALTON IN "SHORT SKIRTS"

When the filming of "Short Skirts" was in progress at Universal City under the direction of Harry B. Harris, Gladys Walton, the dainty little star of the play, celebrated her eighteenth birthday. In the story Miss Walton plays the role of a seventeen-year-old miss, and she was really that age when the first scenes of the photodrama were made. The feature is to be shown at the Lyceum theatre Friday only, matinee and night.

"KILTIES" ARE COMING

The "Kilties" tour around the world was the most remarkable trip ever accomplished by any large musical organization in the world. It was started in Belleville, Ontario, Canada, the home of the organization, on May 24th, 1908, and closed in New York on August 7th, 1910. During the two years and three months of this remarkable tour twenty countries were visited, over 86,000 miles were covered, and 110 days spent at sea. The "Kilties" were honored by the government officials of every country visited, and any organization making such a tour may justly claim a world wide reputation. The "Kilties" will appear here next Thursday, May 18, at the New Park theatre.

Work in His Lot.

The eight-hour working day is unknown in the rural districts of the Balkans. The peasant works from sunrise until after dark. He is so bent and weather-scarred that he looks twice his age after thirty. In some cases he belongs to nomadic tribes and leads an existence unknown in the country district of England or America. At night one often passes whole wagon loads of them on the road going from town to town. Every man is asleep on the top of his load and is not disturbed by thoughts of burglars or highwaymen.

MRS. STILLMAN
TESTIFIES IN SUIT FOR DIVORCE

(By United Press.) Poughkeepsie, N. Y., May 11.—Ann U. Stillman took the stand this afternoon for cross-examination by Col. Rand, attorney for her husband, James A. Stillman, in the banker's suit for divorce.

Mrs. Stillman was severely questioned in detail as to her acquaintance with Fred Beauvais.

Her story was examined point by point.

Mrs. Stillman was asked if she paid Beauvais for his services as guide.

"I paid all my servants," she replied.

The reference to the Indian, who is charged with being the father of her youngest child, baby Guy, as servant, caused a stir in the court room. Just before Mrs. Stillman's cross-examination began, sensation was caused by the testimony of a jeweler, Peter Kuhn, who testified that the gold ring given the banker's wife by Beauvais was worth about $3.00, and that the initials inside the band contended by the Stillman attorneys to be F. B. and A. U. S. were merely the trademark of a Montreal firm that made the ring.

WILL WITHDRAW
PEA OF NOT GUILTY

(By United Press.) Fargo, May 11.—H. H. Bergh, indicted on 36 counts in connection with financial complications which closed the First National bank of Towner more than a year ago, was expected to be in court again today.

Bergh was expected to ask permission to withdraw his plea of not guilty to three counts and plead guilty to those three on the understanding that the remaining counts would be dropped.

Bergh previously pleaded guilty to three minor counts and then withdrew his plea because his attorneys claimed remarks of the court were prejudicial.

Liver Trouble Leads To Serious Ills

Blood Filter of the Body is Source of Infection

Biliousness is a sure sign of liver trouble—and any derangement of the liver is likely to lead to serious if not fatal results. Torpid liver means "bile poison" in the blood—a dangerous condition. If you have pains under the left shoulder blade, coated tongue, fickle appetite, pale, muddy complexion, or attacks of headache, your liver is probably affected. Read this strong endorsement from Mr. J. W. Strawhecker, 1608 Hunter St., Harrisburg, Pa.: "I think I can truthfully say that Dr. A. W. Chase's K-L Pills saved my life. I suffered from bilious attacks and was so far gone nothing would help me, and my treatment I tried just made me worse. I had no control over my kidneys and my liver was so bad that my skin was yellow. I felt sure I was getting disordered. I read in a little booklet of Dr. A. W. Chase's K-L Pills and sent for some, and this is the remedy that saved my life. Today I am a good healthy man, bowels regular, kidneys and liver in good condition, and have a good color and splendid appetite."

Dr. A. W. Chase's remedies can be obtained at any first class drug store. To be sure of getting the genuine, see that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., are on each box. This trade mark is your protection against imitation and substitutes. Advertisement 9
